

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MCCOLLUM) and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LOFGREN) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MCCOLLUM).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCCOLLUM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks, and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

Mr. MCCOLLUM. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, section 1 of this legislation will right a long-standing wrong involving the Federal Government and Global Exploration and Development Corporation and Kerr-McGee Corporation. Global and Kerr-McGee became embroiled in a dispute with the Department of Interior more than 20 years ago when they were improperly denied an opportunity to participate in the environmental assessment process of a potential mining site in the Osceola Forest in Florida.

In January 1991, I introduced legislation for the relief of Global and Kerr-McGee for damages incurred due to wrongful government actions. That bill was successfully referred to the U.S. Court of Federal Claims which ruled that the Government had, in fact, committed a wrongful act. The parties subsequently reached a settlement, the terms of which are embodied in this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I am hopeful that the passage of this legislation will bring long awaited and long overdue relief for the parties involved. Protecting private rights and rectifying public wrongs are essential if we are truly a government of, for, and by the people.

The second section of S. 606, authored by Senator DIANE FEINSTEIN, would amend the Federal Criminal Code to prohibit any person from teaching or demonstrating the making or use of an explosive, destructive device, or weapon of mass destruction. This conduct would be criminal if accompanied by either the intent that the teaching, demonstrating, or information be used for or in furtherance of an activity that constitutes a Federal crime of violence, or knowing that a person intends to use the teaching, demonstration, or information for such activity.

We live in dangerous times and some believe that in the next century we may witness an unprecedented number of acts of terror in the United States. We face the very real threat that a weapon of mass destruction will be used against civilians in a major American city in the next 10 or 20 years. We certainly pray that does not happen, but we must do everything in our power to reduce the threat of terrorism on a massive scale.

No one should be allowed to distribute bomb-making information with the intent that it be based and be used to commit a violent crime. This legislation has been carefully crafted to prohibit and punish conduct, not speech, and I am quite confident it will withstand constitutional challenge. Senator FEINSTEIN worked with the Justice Department on the constitutionality, and they support it.

With the Internet, it has become all too easy to disseminate bomb-making information to anyone with a personal computer. While we cannot and should not inhibit constitutionally-protected speech, we can and should do everything in our power to prohibit the dissemination of bomb-making information to commit a violent crime.

Similar or virtually identical provisions were passed on the floor of this House were passed previously and I am confident this will now finally become law if we pass it today.

Now, I turn to section 3 of this bill. S.606 additionally authorizes the U.S. Government to finally make good on a $32 million court settlement with the Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin. The history of this settlement can be traced back to 1954, when the Federal Government terminated the tribe's Federal trust status and the Bureau of Indian Affairs grossly mismanaged many of the tribe's assets.

In 1967, the tribe filed a lawsuit challenging this determination and seeking damages. After decades of litigation, in 1993 Congress passed a congressional reference directing the U.S. Claims Court to determine what damages, if any, were owed the tribe.

Finally, in August of last year, the tribe and the Federal Government presented a settlement agreement to the Claims Court paying the tribe $32 million. That settlement was approved by the court. These dollars will only be used to improve education, health care, and economic opportunities for the tribe and the areas surrounding the reservation.

I particularly want to commend the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. GREEN) and the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) for their work in this particular area.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, though these three provisions are somewhat related, and as such a good illustration of the more open rules of process employed by the other body, each of the legislative initiatives contained within S.606 are straightforward and relatively non-controversial. I ask for the support of this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this bill, which passed both the Subcommittee on Immigration and Claims and the full Committee on the Judiciary during the 105th Congress, and passed the full Senate this year, will pay $10 million and $9,500,000 respectively to Kerr-McGee Corporation and Global Exploration and Development Corporation based on the recommendation made by the Court of Claims as to the amounts equitably due those companies.

This legislation is intended to resolve litigation between the Federal Government and these corporations. This litigation was based upon the corporations' allegations that the United States improperly failed to grant or approve leases or to allow phosphate mining by Global and Kerr-McGee Corporations in Osceola National Forest.

After a 6-week trial before the Court of Federal Claims, but before the court could issue an opinion, the parties agreed to a joint stipulation of settlement and submitted this stipulation to the court. On November 18, 1996, the court published its recommendation to Congress that the disputes be settled for the amounts set forth in this bill.

The Court's recommendation to Congress was not based upon the finding of any wrongdoing by the United States in its dealings with Global or the Kerr-McGee Corporations. Rather, the court's recommendation was based upon and limited to a finding that an equitable claim against the United States existed and it was in the best interest of all parties to settle this claim for the amounts set forth in the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I urge that my colleagues vote in favor of passing S. 606.

Mr. Speaker, I would note that the section referred to in the bill by my colleague, the chairman of the Subcommittee on Crime, relative to penalties for teaching individuals weapons of mass destruction may or may not prove violative of the first amendment. But clearly a very strong effort has been made to comport with the requirements of the first amendment, and I would urge my colleagues to support the measure. We will certainly find out soon enough whether our efforts to succeed in that regard are successful or not when the measure is challenged in court.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MCCOLLUM. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER).

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Florida for yielding me this time.

Let me just put a word of procedural caution relative to how this bill is being considered. All three of the provisions of this bill have merit and should be enacted into law on their own. Two of them are private bills in nature, the Kerr-McGee settlement and the Menominee Indian Tribe settlement, and the other provision is public in nature relative to disseminating on the Internet a do-it-yourself kit on how individuals can make their own weapons of mass destruction. So they all should become law, and I support this legislation today.

However, I am disturbed at the practice of the other body in mixing public and private legislation in the same bill, and I would hope that the consideration of this bill today as a mixture of both public legislation and private legislation will not be viewed as a precedent for future mixings by either this body or the other body.

I would hope that this motion to suspend the rules will be overwhelmingly agreed to so that we can get these three items out of the way and enacted into law, but I would hope we would be a little bit more careful procedurally as we deal with both public and private legislation in the future.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to simply respond that I think the gentleman from Wisconsin's point is well taken, I concur, and I also agree we should move forward today but we ought to be more vigilant. I appreciate his remarks.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MCCOLLUM. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to conclude.

I think it has been well stated what is in this legislation. It is good legislation. It is three separate provisions that should become law, and I urge its adoption.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MCCOLLUM) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 606, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

ARCTIC TUNDRA HABITAT EMERGENCY CONSERVATION ACT

Mr. SAXTON. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2454) to assure the long-term conservation of mid-continent light geese and the biological diversity of the ecosystem upon which many North American migratory birds depend, by directing the Secretary of the Interior to implement rules to reduce the overabundant population of mid-continent light geese, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 2454

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
